

LAWYERS LABOR WITH THE BILL

TART AND MEMBERS OF HIS CABINET BUSY.

IT MUST BE REDRAFTED

Sections That Conflict With the Constitution Are to Be Fixed.

Washington, D. C., July 12.—President Taft and the members of his cabinet have undertaken to save the tariff conference from hanging over the corporation tax amendment.

It is concluded that the measure passed by the senate must be redrafted in order to remove constitutional objections, and to meet the views of the administration.

Attorney General Wickersham, who is working on the legal problems involved, is in frequent consultation with Secretary Knox, Secretary Root and the president himself.

When they have perfected the amendment it will be sent to the conference who will incorporate it in bill as agreed to in the conference.

The new draft corporation tax amendment will provide for a tax of one per cent, instead of two per cent, on the net earnings of corporations. This was decided today at an informal conference at the White House.

CYCLONIC WIND IN ST. LOUIS SUBURBS

Telephone and Telegraphic Lines Are Put Out of Communication—Trees Uprooted.

St. Louis, July 12.—A cyclonic wind struck St. Louis and its suburbs at noon today and telegraph and telephone wires were blown down. In the country farms were uprooted.

Chicago, July 12.—At the headquarters of the telephone companies today severe wire troubles are reported from a storm which swept the territory west of Chicago in central and northern Indiana and Minnesota.

APPLETON REPORTS THE THEFT OF SILK GOODS

Fifteen Hundred Dollars Worth of Goods Taken From Store.

Appleton, Wis., July 12.—Approximately $1500 worth of silk and a number of high priced suit cases were stolen either Saturday or Sunday night from the German Dry Goods Store in this city. It is believed the robbery was perpetrated by the same gang that last week operated in Fond du Lac and Oshkosh. The police have been furnished with a description of practically every piece of silk stolen, samples having been attached to the paper in which the bolts were wrapped.

PERU AND BOLIVIA READY TO FLY TO ARMY.

A BOUNDARY IS IN DISPUTE

Disorders Have Begun at La Paz—Other Republics to Be Neutral.

Valparaiso, Chile, July 12.—It is believed here that war between Peru and Bolivia is imminent because of disorders at La Paz following the decision handed down by the Argentina in a boundary dispute between the two countries.

The Chilean ambassador said today that Chile would remain neutral, but she is preparing to send warships for the protection of Chilean interests.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR FOUR FROM A FIERY DEATH

Pleasure Seekers Nearly Died in Flames Before Reaching Safety.

Garden City, Mich., July 12.—Four men racing on a trail of timber were nearly killed by a fire which broke out on Saturday night. The four men, Harold Collette, football player on the Detroit college football team last year; Henry Park, infielder on the Highland Park, Chicago Academy team; Ben Kauts, a Menominee, Mich., newspaper man, were caught in the midst of the fire and escaped only after all four of them had received severe burns. The party had been on a cruise in a small launch and stopped at Numa, near here, to escape a storm. Not wishing to sleep on the launch the quartet struck into the interior. When they awoke in the morning the forest floor was raging on three sides of their camp. The smoke was so dense they could not see their way in front of them and after waiting around in the forest for over two hours they rounded up at their starting place, Numa, the only one in the party who was acquainted with the northern woods. Finally succeeding in guiding the party to the beach where their boat was moored. All four were nearly exhausted from their thrilling experience when they reached here. Their injuries are not serious.

The tract over which the Garden City Lumber company in which concern Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin is heavily interested, is considered one of the finest tracts of virgin forest in the upper peninsula, but serious damage from the fire are not expected.

LAST DAY OF THE ENDEAVOR MEETING

Many Prominent Speakers From All Countries of World Took Part in Today's Program.

St. Paul, Minn., July 12.—Sunday with the Christian Endeavorers was a day of triumph. The meeting, which was held in the Auditorium and in several churches in the morning and afternoon, with a noonday rally in the Metropolitan opera house, drew a large and enthusiastic crowd. Many prominent speakers and laymen, invited the delegates to their homes, and many of them, even if they were in their nightgowns, and did more or less of sight-seeing, and did not a few took short journeys to Lake Minnetonka or elsewhere.

Today was the last day of the convention. Sessions were held in the Auditorium and in several churches in the morning and afternoon, with a noonday rally in the Metropolitan opera house. Many prominent speakers and laymen, invited the delegates to their homes, and many of them, even if they were in their nightgowns, and did more or less of sight-seeing, and did not a few took short journeys to Lake Minnetonka or elsewhere.

The unanimous re-election as official head of all the Christian Endeavorers in the world was more enthusiastic than an endorsement of his great work, the welcome which greeted Rev. Francis D. Clarke as he stepped from his train at Saint Paul, to attend the international meetings. Thousands of Endeavorers from all parts of the world, gathered in the morning and afternoon, with a noonday rally in the Metropolitan opera house. Many prominent speakers and laymen, invited the delegates to their homes, and many of them, even if they were in their nightgowns, and did more or less of sight-seeing, and did not a few took short journeys to Lake Minnetonka or elsewhere.

THAW BEGINS HIS FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

Case is Started Before Justice Mills—Prisoner Watches Lawyers.

White Plains, July 12.—[Harry K. BIG CONVENTION OF ELKS OPENED TODAY

Heard Everywhere in "Hello Bill" Heard Everywhere in Los Angeles at B. P. O. E. Gathering.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 12.—The Elks' convention week opened today under conditions that promise one of the most successful national reunions ever held by the famous order. While thousands of Elks arrived Saturday and Sunday, the real inflow did not begin until this morning. All the downtown section was well-nigh congested. Enthusiastic crowds filled the railroad stations, the hotels and other public places and the familiar "Hello Bill" was to be heard on all sides.

Though the grand lodge session proper will not begin until tomorrow morning, there will be a big welcome demonstration in Temple Auditorium tonight, with prayer, songs and speeches by distinguished citizens and members of the grand lodge. Today was spent principally in sight-seeing and merry-making. Those who did not journey to the seashore spent the time in greeting new arrivals or in visiting historic places.

The political side of the convention is looking up strong today. James O. Summels, of Iowa, a candidate for grand exalted ruler, seems to lead for that high honor, though the rival claim for "Garry" Hermann, of Cincinnati, is being pushed for all it is worth. Detroit seems to have the field pretty well to itself as the place for the next convention.

Detroit, Mich., July 12.—Given a rousing send-off by a crowd of thousands assembled to witness their departure, the contestants in the sixth annual tour for the Glidden, Hower and Detroit trophies, started from this city today in a picturesque cavalcade of nearly one hundred automobiles, with plenty of hand luggage and baggage cars and utility trucks bringing up the rear. The machines were sent off at an hour when intervals as possible, so that when the last car was given the signal to start the first one was many miles ahead of the city limits.

The tour will cover a little over 2,500 miles, finishing at Kansas City on July 29. This will make an elapsed period of eighteen days for the tour and fourteen running days. The real interest centers, of course, in the Glidden contest, for which more than two-score machines are competing. In the lower contest, which is for runabouts, for an individual prize, there are fourteen entries, and for the Detroit trophy three. There are a number of non-competitive cars besides the official cars for those in charge of the tour.

The route for the tour this year is regarded by veterans in the motor world as ideal and was sure to test every machine to the limit. There are few easy jumps on the course. Before the cars have rolled into Kansas City two weeks hence, the participants will know they have traveled some. They will pass through a number of big cities and will have gone through a large section of the Rocky Mountain range and its eastern foothills. With good weather it should afford some enjoyable days. Should it rain, particularly going along the mountains, the surgeons going along this year will earn their money.

The first day's run today will take the motorists to the entrepoteur little city of Kalamazoo. It is a trifle over 12 miles, the shortest run of the tour, the longest of which exceed 200 miles.

Tomorrow's run will be from Kalamazoo to Chicago, from which point the tourists will travel through one of the most picturesque regions of Wisconsin on their way to Minneapolis. An enthusiastic greeting is promised at Minneapolis, where the tourists have arranged to stop two days. They will be taken in charge by the automobile clubs and dealers of the Twin Cities and given rides to Lake Minnetonka and other points, with receptions, luncheons and other forms of entertainment.

In Omaha preparations are also being made for the reception of the tourists and again in Denver, where two days will be spent, a rousing reception awaits the travelers. Leaving Denver, the motorists will proceed through Colorado and Kansas to Kansas City. This part of the tour will occupy four days and will be full of interest. At Kansas City, the finishing point, splendid entertainment will be provided for the tourists.

FULL ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE GAZETTE'S BIG VOTING CONTEST

The Particulars Concerning This Chance of a Lifetime Fully Explained in Page Ad.

YOU CAN BE A WINNER; LUCK
MEANS CONSCIENTIOUS ENDEAVOR.

This Issue Contains a Nomination
Blank—Fill It Out for Your self or a Friend.

A great amount of interest is being manifested in this city and surrounding country, in the great $1,000 popular contest announced in Saturday's columns.

Already a number of names of popular
young ladies have been received at this office, and numerous telephone calls, making inquiries for the full
particulars, which appear in this issue.

The number and value of prizes to be given away eclipse any ever offered
before by any Wisconsin paper located in a city this size.

Sent in your name at once, interest
all your friends and systematize
your campaign, then when your name
appears in the list to be published
July 19th, you will be a leader.

All girls are eligible and full instructions
printed in the page ad of this issue
will explain all points. Should you fail to understand the conditions, etc.,
kindly telephone or call and the Contest Manager will make all points
pertaining to the contest, clearly understood.

We reserve the right to exclude
names of objectionable persons.
This contest will be conducted on a fair and equal basis; no partiality will be shown.

The office records and accounts are
thrown open to candidates for inspection any time during the contest.

The name of an employee or member
of an employer's family, or correspondent, will be excluded.

You Can Win.
Any young lady is eligible to compete in this great contest and popular
vote, as explained in this issue,
will determine those who are successful.

This contest affords an excellent opportunity for the young ladies of Janesville and vicinity, to win either
a piano, a handsome piece of jewelry or a business education at the expense of The Gazette.

The ambitious girl who is quick to realize the advantage of this exceptional opportunity should see that
her name is sent to the contest manager, and follow the instructions that appear daily. And, remember,
win, you must receive the largest number of votes, according to the conditions of the contest.

After your nomination, call on and
interest all your friends and by sys-tematized and energetic action induce
as many as possible, not only to cast
their votes for you, but to interest
their respective friends in your behalf.

The easiest and surest way to win
is for candidates to ask their friends
not only to save them the nomination
blank, but to settle arrangements or to prepare their subscriptions.

Your friends will be glad to accommodate you, as this costs the subscriber nothing extra.

The settlement of these subscriptions entitles you to a special ballot
which can be voted any time during
the contest.

Any person who desires to vote, in
this contest, may do so by properly
filling out and voting the coupons that appear in each issue of The Gazette,
but these coupons are good for only
ten days from date of publication
and will not be counted after the date
printed on them.

The special vote, ballots, which are
issued for every subscription payment,
may be cast any time during the contest, and they will count their full
value for the candidate whose name
they bear.

People living in one district may vote for a candidate that lives in another; they are not confined to their own particular district.

At the close of the contest the successful ones will receive orders from The Gazette for their respective prizes and they may use or dispose of them in accordance to their individual liking. They are transferable.

Instructions for Voting.
Send to the Contest Manager the name of the young lady whom you desire to nominate and receive one of these valuable prizes. The name of the party making the nomination will not be divulged if so desired.

With a little encouragement on your part you may win one of these
high-grade prizes, a beautiful
diamond ring, a scholarship or a gold
watch. See that her name is entered,
then pledge her your hearty support.

Like the "early bird," much depends upon an early start; consequently
names should be entered at once.

Don't delay.
No candidate is barred because she
is not at present or never has been a Gazette subscriber. This gives an offense is forgiven this time.

Doublet would-be candidates, enter
on the start; present your name at once and your host of friends will do
the rest.

September 4.
The surprise of September 4 will be
the fact that you won with such little
amount of effort put forth on your part.

The issue of The Gazette Monday, July 19, will contain the names of
ladies competing, with their respective number of votes.

From then on, votes will be counted
at 10 a. m. each day and the results
of the count printed the following afternoon.

In behalf of those interested a short article will appear each day which will enable them to keep in close
touch with the contest and those competing.

The articles will be brief and will

DUSTLESS BROOM

The Handle, Filled With Kerosene,
Keeps Dirt Particles From Rising.

A new broom, which is said to be made
of a hollow handle designed to be filled with kerosene, and the oil saturat-
ing the broom corn has the effect of making the dust particles adhere to it. Instead of floating through space, the result is that the dust particles are held
in place by the oil, and light
particles are held in place by the oil, and
the oil may be found preferable. The handle is a light steel tube
with a tight cap on the top and the oil is fed downward into the lower end. From there it is absorbed into the core of sponge which is in the center of

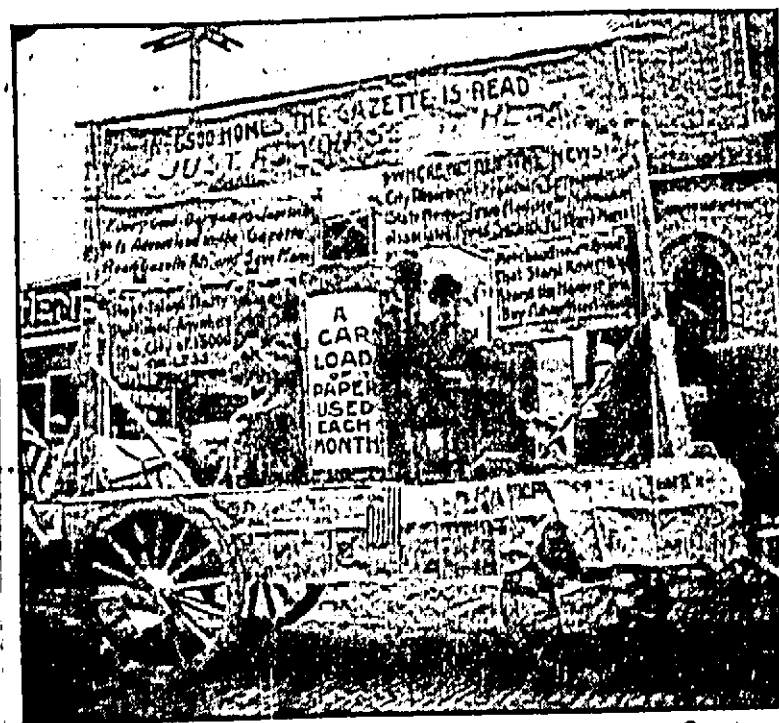

THE DUSTLESS BROOM.

the broom, and is there distributed
evenly through the straw fibers. Pressure caused by the act of sweeping releases the oil from the sponge working to supply the requisite amount of oil to hold the dust. It is claimed that on account of the very small quantity of oil required, there is no danger of fire, and the oil can be replaced as needed.

When the head of the broom is worn
out it may be replaced with another.
These may be purchased as needed.

Be Not Too Ready with Excuses.
That man who always is searching
for excuses for his short-comings is a hugger in business life. To find an excuse almost always involves some one or more of his fellows. To have his excuses accepted tends to place
his fellows more or less under ensue, and whether the excuse be just
or unjust, friction results inevitably.

Happiness.
I believe in gittin' as much good
outen life as you kin—not that I ever
set out to look for happiness; seems
like the folks that does never find it.
I jes' do the best I kin where the good Lord put me at, an' it looks like I got a happy feelin' in me 'most all the time.—Mrs. WIGGS.

FOOLISH. FOOLISH, QUESTIONS

FOOLISH QUESTIONS—No. 1374.

It Is Not Your Fault, Madam

You could not bake bread just as good as Yankee Bread if you had the proper facilities. It is here we excel you.
For no home kitchen can produce the tremendous heat of 340 degrees as we do in our super-heated ovens.

Not Adulterated

Not one grain of alum is used in our bread. It seems almost unnecessary to make this statement, because alum is scarcely ever used in any bread nowadays. It is not needed.

There was a time when some bakers used it to whiten
the bread when the flour would happen to be of poor quality. But that was years ago.

Now the baker blends his flour.

For instance—we buy three of the best patent flours direct from the mill. We order in carload lots so as to get a uniform grade of the highest quality. Then we mix
these flours according to our special formula. The result is a perfectly white loaf of uniform quality.

You Get It fresh and Warm

Yankee Bread is taken right from the ovens every morning and in ten minutes it is delivered to the first grocer. In a few hours it is distributed over the city.

Isn't that better than having three-day-old bread in your pantry, when you must also spend two days every week in the kitchen?

Try one loaf of this delicious bread today. See how the folks at your table like the bread baked in steam. Let them once taste the delightful flavor and you will no longer have to spend one-sixth of your week in the kitchen.

You can get it at all grocers at 5c the loaf, although it is worth more, because it is larger and three times as good as any other bread ever baked.

Please do not think of Yankee Bread as ordinary bread. It is not baked in the usual way—it is baked in live steam ovens.

These ovens are made tight and have low roofs, so
moisture rising from the bread is retained in the ovens.

But even this is not sufficient. Other steam super-heated to 340 degrees is forced in under tremendous pressure.

The result is simply wonderful. Every particle of natural moisture is baked right into the loaf.

And that loaf is the most delicious bread ever made.
It is the utmost in bread perfection.

The Effect of Dry Ovens

Home made bread is baked in dry heat.

This heat evaporates the moisture in the dough and
rapidly bakes the crust to a crisp.

Then the heat cannot penetrate the crust and reach
the center of the loaf.

By actual test the center of the loaf rarely exceeds 100 degrees. Even the oven has a maximum temperature of 200 degrees.

And it requires a heat of 212 degrees to kill the yeast cells. Your oven cannot produce this fierce heat, so the yeast cells are never killed.

They continue to ferment after the bread is baked.

They form gas in the stomach and cause indigestion.

The dry crust keeps the heat out, but it also retains the moisture. That's why home-baked bread is always damp, but the center is only half-baked.

Our heat of 340 degrees kills every yeast cell and our steam bakes every part of the bread in the proper way.

And it is a perfect bread—the very ultimate in nutritious food.

Saturday's games in the city league brought but one change in the order of the teams. The Y. M. C. A. by defeating the Wisconsin Carriage Company pulled up from fourth place into a tie for third with the Lewis Knitting Company's team who had seven one-point clips from their standing by the Machine Company's move. The How Boys played their usual strong game both in the field and with the willow and found no great difficulty in winning. As the record now stands, the leaders are still leading by a good margin, with the Spinners and Sunday School Boys engaged in an undecided struggle for third place, while the Typos and Carriage Makers are frantically trying to see who can dive the deepest. IS HEROISM DEAD?
One part of East Africa which Mr. Roosevelt traversed is bristling of the moral interest an account of the moral heroism displayed there a generation ago by a group of the young men from the English universities. It was at the time when Stanley was playing the role of foreign missionary in Uganda by giving daily Bible lessons to the pagan king, Mwesa, and translating the gospels into his vernacular. Stanley became so interested in his novel occupation that he challenged Christian England to send him recruits. Eight young students, some of them famous athletes, immediately responded, not for the sake of shooting lions and hippopotami, but to tame the savage natives and make Christians out of cannibals. To be sure several of these Englishmen lost their lives, but when a telegram from East Africa reached London one Monday, appealing for four more men to start the following Saturday, who had volunteered their services by Wednesday. No wonder that Stanley called the story of the Uganda mission "an epic poem." And the same spirit that animated those English students is alive in our own colleges today. Shortly after the horrible massacres in Turkey last April, one of the secretaries of the American Board received a letter from an undergraduate in a famous university, begging to be sent there at once without waiting to finish the course. Another asked particularly to be sent to Hadjin, a place where teachers and pupils in the mission school were shut up for three whole weeks, not knowing whether they would ever come forth alive, and where young Rogers was stationed, the man who was killed while trying to save others. The New York nation said of this act: "It was a death as glorious in spirit as General Gordon's, giving up life to save the feeble and friendless, and we may be sure that the recording angel will not be misled by the absence of newspaper glorification." Is heroism dead? Not a bit of it!

WHAT CITY NEEDS
What Janesville needs is a business agent. Call him a secretary or what you please, but Janesville should have a man whose whole time and interests are devoted to making the city a commercial center. It is not a question of experiment to employ such a man but one of business sagacity. Call him an advertising agent if you want to, but under whatever name he is given he should be active and alert to watch every opportunity for interesting foreign manufacturers to invest here, to bring new factories to the city and to increase the business of the city. Other cities have tried this plan with success. They have grown accordingly; why not Janesville? It is up to the businessmen of the city to take the initial step in such a business, but once taken its wisdom would be seen by all.

DEEPENING THE RIVER
Steps have actually been taken to make the Rock river a navigable stream. The actual work has been begun in the Horicon marsh district, this tract of lowlands that for many years has been in the courts in one way or another in which lawyers without number have been interested and thousands of dollars expended.

Now the owners of the marshlands are ready to have it flooded and the old Horicon lake or inland sea restored. It is the first step in the deepening of the Rock river below. It is the initial work of making the stream navigable by insuring a good fall of water the year round. It is to be hoped that the project will not be permitted to die out. It is hoped that the business men of the cities along the route will see the value of river freight rates to urge congress to go ahead with the work. The first step has been taken in the Horicon and now all along the line cities should not fail to play their part in the work.

The idea of organizing the Nonesuch Bros. into a formal organization is worth considering. Janesville has received lots of advertising from this one feature alone that would be well worth perpetuating by a formal organization of the persons who have taken part.

First the papers announce that a combine is being made against Senator La Follette and then it is done and so on. However, it is safe to say that something is going to drop when the next campaign begins operations.

One hears lots of talk these hot dog days about politics but if the wishes of the long-suffering public could be attended to politics would be dropped out of the list of news until sometime next spring.

Taft and the big stick may be strangers as yet, but before congress gets through they may find that the golf club is as good a weapon as the big stick when properly wielded.

Madison is of the opinion that the Janesville-Madison Interurban is a pretty live sort of an affair and expect to see cars running from Janesville to Madison within a year.

Lila says that Wisconsin has an anti-profanity law. Not yet. The Editor of Lila evidently has not tried holding in any of the Wisconsin lakes and lost the biggest fish he ever saw.

THE IDEAL WOMAN.
Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook, outlines his conception of the ideal woman:

A woman who is not the slave of fashion nor the dressmaker.
Who is not afraid that work will spoil her hands.
Who wears shoes in which she can walk, thereby getting her color from exercise instead of the rouge box.
Who develops her love of beauty in her home.
Who is "industrious, sympathetic, energetic, enthusiastic, motherly and a true friend."

Well, that is considerable to demand of one woman, is it not?
And yet—
There is nothing in the requirements that call for the super-woman. The qualities specified are the old homely, practical qualities that are to be found in the average woman.

Of course you will not find these qualities in the woman of the Four Hundred—or seldom.
These society dames, for the most part, are the slaves of fashion; cooing their hands by frequent recourse to the manicure; crimping and from their carriages in high heeled shoes and get their complexion from art.

Paraphrasing Editor Abbott's enumeration, we may say of these women: "They are industrious—in their dissipation; sympathetic—where sympathy is not needed; energetic—in their attendance on functions; motherly—to their lap dogs; true friends—to the sun or prosperity shiner."

They concern themselves in nothing more than the problem of how to double on bridge, the symphony of table decorations, the newest fad on rhythmic emotions or the whyness of artistic theusness.

But there are others. There are hosts of women who fill to the full the measure of ideal womanhood.

Women who are not afraid of soiling their hands, who use sensible shoes, who wear their native colors on lip and cheek, who are "industrious, sympathetic, energetic, enthusiastic, motherly and true friends."

More than that!
If you would picture many of these women you would need employ history and rhetoric, because—
Thousands of our everyday women are bathed in attractiveness, Miriams in courage, Sarahs in gracious dignity, Rachels in affection for their children, Marthas in devotion to their households and Marys in their devotion to spiritual things.

Fortunes are thick in this valley of tears, the means of the sorrowful come to our ears; the law of hard luck seems the govern- ing law, and a package of grief is the prize that we draw. But if we would cut out the weeping and sighs, and quit pumping brine from our water-logged eyes, we'd soon find our troubles and sorrows disperse; for there's nothing so bad that it couldn't be worse. It's well to reflect, when you're burdened with care and trouble comes down with his feet in the air, that others have suffered as deeply as you, and raised just as much of a hullabaloo, and others have found that a bundle of woe is easy to lose, if you only think so. From the day you are born till you die in the hereafter, there is nothing so bad that it couldn't be worse. One day I was walking around, pretty plain, for a fellow was holding the fort on my thumb; the surgeon came in with his saw, and avowed that I was a baby for yelling so loud; "I sawed off the leg of your neighbor," he said, "and never a whimper came out of his head." Oh, it's true as you live that—excepting this verse—there is nothing so bad that it couldn't be worse!

AMONG STATE EDITORS.
Bayfield Press: What the country ought to do is to start at the bottom of the whole trouble and revise some of the members of congress.

Rochester Journal: When the free rural mail service was started it was understood the government would be understood the roads utilized being improved. If the postoffice people would enforce the promises made when the routes were started the country would quickly have a much finer road system.

Manawa Advertiser: We have come to the conclusion that every preacher of our land should have a minimum salary of one thousand dollars per annum and house rent free. The preachers of the gospel all over the land are too poorly paid.

Menasha Record: Three of the world's greatest nations in a peace pact should prove of some value and carry some weight with those little fellows who are continually overstepping the bounds of propriety. Wars are not conducive to prosperity and the civilized countries are avowed to this fact.

Madison Wisconsin: A company has been organized at Eau Claire in this state to manufacture a patent device for generating an electric current by means of a windmill. Some of these days, if not in the near future, the power of the wind and the heat of the sun will be employed in place of coal for the production of energy needed to operate machinery. This will result in a conservation of industrial resources far beyond anything likely to be accomplished by means of statutes.

Hudson Star-Observer: The good people of Madison are wrestling with the pure water problem. At present the city derives its water from artesian wells but a recent fire disclosed the fact that in case of a large conflagration the supply might become exhausted and leave the city at the mercy of the flames. At a recent meeting of the water board three of the five members voted to connect the water mains with the lake to insure a sufficient supply. All authorities are agreed that sufficient water may be had from artesian wells and this would insure pure water at all times. It would be a great surprise if the city would permit the pollution of the water by a lake connection. While we are legislating for pure food let us not forget that pure water is even more important.

LIGHTNING LOSES TERRORS
New Type of Conductor Completely Covers House.

Alas is outline by the lightning conductor invented by a New York man, and once more mythology has been put to the blush by twentieth century science. This new conductor is a big improvement on the old type of lightning rod and may be said to insure absolute safety from the bolts from the sky.

The apparatus consists of a system of lightning conductors that extend in the form of loops from the earth over the building and are free from points and sharp angles. Insulating devices hold the conductors above all parts of the roof of the building and are adjustable to fit different pitches of roof and to keep the conductors free from the points and angles. The illustration shows the conductors strung over the ridge poles of a house and practically enveloping it so that lightning striking at any part will be passed along the wires into the ground on any side. By this system every angle of a building is equally protected.

510 DIE IN BATTLE: TEHERAN IN A PANIC

SHAH'S FORCES ROUTED IN FIGHT WITH PERSIAN REBELS.

FIRING LASTS FOR HOURS

Nationalist Army Compels Government Troops to Retreat in Disorder—Russian Soldiers on Way to Prevent Looting of Teheran.

Teheran, Persia, July 12.—In the first great battle of the rebellion the shah's troops were defeated by the Persian Nationalists. The battle was fought within 15 miles of Teheran and the capital city, fearing invasion by the rebels, is in a panic. The struggle lasted several hours and it is estimated that 500 of the government forces were slain.

For more than two hours the position of the untrained forces of the Nationalists was under the fire of four guns. Their single piece of artillery, however, was used to good advantage and the cannonading of the enemy was silenced.

Use Quick Firing Guns.
The shah's troops immediately brought up a number of quick firing guns and Maxims, and a storm of shot swept their position.

Under the cover of this galling fire a force of several hundred Persian Cossacks, commanded by officers of the Russian army, charged the eminence on which the Nationalists were located.

Their single gun was again put in play, and terrible damage was done when several shells were dropped in the midst of the advancing cavalry.

The Nationalist Infantry in the meantime kept close under cover, and not until the hoof-beats of the horses told them that the enemy was upon them did they open fire.

Cossacks Are Routed.
Volley after volley was fired. The aim of the citizen soldiers was good, and the Cossacks, panic-stricken, turned their horses' heads, retreating in disorder, leaving more than fifty of their number dead and wounded.

Another attack was attempted, the shah's troops, 1,200 strong, assaulting the position. The result was the same. The single gun of the Nationalists was used to more effect than the entire battery of the shah, while the rifle fire proved more accurate.

The shah's men retired in disorder to await the arrival of the Russian troops, which are reported to have reached Kazvin, 85 miles from Teheran. A joint attack is then expected.

The Nationalists were commanded by Sipahdar and Sardaraad, former officers in the Imperial forces, who have cast their lot in the fight for independence. Their force numbered about 800 men, with one gun and no cavalry. It is estimated that 150 men were killed during the engagement.

DETROIT MOB IS FRUSTRATED.

Officer Saves Alleged Assailant of Girl from Lynching.

Detroit, Mich., July 12.—Armed with shotguns, ropes, revolvers and other weapons, a mob of 500 enraged men tried to take Frank Bradley, accused of attacking Mary Oberitzious, 18 years old, from Deputy Sheriff Louis Luba to lynch him. The officer after a lively fight landed his prisoner in the jail at Oakwood, a suburb of this city.

Miss Oberitzious was attacked as she was on the way from her Oakwood home to this city. Her assailant sprang from some bushes and brutally assaulted her. She fought back and during the fight several of her teeth were knocked out. She reported the attack to the officers and accused Bradley, and the officer captured him after a chase of nearly two miles.

RECORD CORN CROP PREDICTED.

Yield for This Year Will Be Near 3,000,000,000 Bushels.

Washington, July 12.—The American corn crop for 1909 promises to smother all previous records. It is possible that the crop will exceed 3,000,000,000 bushels.

According to the figures printed in the department of agriculture report of the crop conditions July 1 the farmers have now 109,000,000 acres planted in corn. This is an increase over the 1908 acreage of 7,248,000, or 7.1 per cent. It would require only a fraction of one per cent. of improvement to boost the yield past the 3,000,000,000 mark. With the present prices of corn as shown on the New York and Chicago exchanges the total amount of the crop will probably approximate $2,250,000,000.

New Balloon Record Made.

Topham, Me., July 12.—A new record for distance traveled by balloons in New England was made by William Van Sleet, pilot, and E. Deserault of Pittsfield, Mass.; Frank Smith of Williamstown, Mass.; Dr. W. B. Sullivan and Charles Galsick of North Adams, Mass., who ascended from the latter place at 2:15 o'clock yesterday morning and landed here at 8:55 a. m., having traveled 175 miles in an air line.

Canal to Need $48,000,000.

Washington, July 12.—Forty-eight million dollars will be needed by the Isthmian canal commission to carry on the work of digging the Panama canal during the fiscal year 1911, according to estimates which have been received by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh.

That Is, Some Homes.

"Home is where the heart is," so the poets say. But some declare that home is where the grouch is on display.—Kansas City Journal.

GREAT REMODELING SALE

No sale like this in all our history

Great Stocks of Summer Goods of Every Description will be Closed Out Now at the Lowest Prices in Years

We have found it necessary to make extensive improvements to take care of our greatly increasing patronage and when completed we will occupy the largest and most convenient Clothing and Shoe Store in Southern Wisconsin. Values are the cause of this growth—values such as you see listed here and others equally as good, and with every purchase in addition to the satisfaction that comes from knowing that you are saving money, is the feeling that entire satisfaction is guaranteed with every article. Two strong forces are back of this sale. First, the remodeling means the cleaning out of many lines of merchandise, and as an appreciation to the public who have helped us build this great business, we're going to offer bargains such as were never before offered—bargains unheard of, just when you want them, and on just what merchandise you want. Sale Starts Wednesday Morning.

Conditions Governing in This Great Contest

Candidates agree upon the entry of their names to be governed by the rules of the contest and decision of the Gazette on all questions and disputes that may arise. Any woman is eligible providing the following conditions are complied with:

Candidates must reside in the district or territory from which nominated, and should a candidate remove to another district, or transfer votes to another candidate after receiving them for herself, she forfeits all rights to votes received.

Ballots cast for girls not properly nominated will not be counted.

The ballot that appears in each daily issue will count 10 votes.

The date that appears on these ballots designates the length of time they are good, and must be voted before that date.

All communications and ballots must be sent direct to "The Contest Manager, Janesville Daily Gazette," postage fully prepaid.

All employees and correspondents of The Gazette and members of an employee's family will be excluded from this contest.

In cases of tie, prizes of equal value are given to each of the two candidates thus involved.

Where These Valuable Prizes Are to Be Inspected

We have purchased the three beautiful Newman Bros. Pianos from H. F. Nott of this city. Call at his store and inspect them.

The three elegant diamond rings and three gold watches have been purchased from Olin & Olson. Watch their display window.

Three combined course business college scholarships valued at $110 each have been purchased from the Janesville Business College.

HOW PRIZES WILL BE DISTRIBUTED.

The First Three Prizes—Three Beautiful Upright Standard Pianos will be presented to three young ladies receiving the greatest number of votes, each in their respective districts.

The three elegant Diamond Rings will go to the ladies receiving the second greatest number of votes, each in their respective districts. The Scholarships will go to the ladies receiving the third greatest number of votes in their respective districts. The Solid Gold Watches will go to the ladies receiving the fourth greatest number of votes in their respective districts. Each district will receive four prizes, consisting of one Piano, one Diamond Ring, one Scholarship and one Watch, regardless of the number of votes cast in the other districts; the results of one district is not governed by the results of another.

Remember, the winning of one of these grand prizes is not a question of money. Extensive acquaintance, popularity, loyal friendship and enthusiastic co-operation will determine whom the successful will be. Your numerous friends will unite in an effort to make you a winner of one of these elegant Pianos.

Be a winner—you may gain much and you risk nothing. Don't delay, as the time is short, only 7 weeks from the first announcement of candidates, these valuable prizes will be won. Stop to consider: An elegant Piano—a Diamond Ring—a business college Scholarship, or a solid Gold Watch—to be won in 8 weeks by a little effort on your part and the loyal support of your friends. The Gazette has done, and will do, its part. Now you and your friends do yours.

Contest opens Monday, July 12, 1909, and closes Saturday, September 4, 1909, at 10 p. m.

CHANGE MADE IN STATE OIL LAWSNEW PROVISIONS WITH HEAVY
PENALTIES ENACTED.

REGULATES THE SALE ALSO

Aim Is to Lessen Danger of Accidents

—Condemned Oil Can Not
Be Sold.Important changes have been made
in the state laws regulating the sale
of products from petroleum, and declares in petroleum, gasoline or naphtha
violating the new provisions after
Aug. 1 will be subject to heavy fines,
imprisonment, or both.The laws have been changed in order to give to the public higher grades
of oil and in an effort to lessen the number of accidents which result
yearly from products containing gasoline handled by purchasers often in a dangerous manner, unwittingly.

Three Tests for Oil

Hereafter, all oil coming into the city will be examined by inspectors
while in the car tanks and will be subjected to a flash, burning and gravity test. This record shall be printed upon the tank wagon delivering the oil, and the law reads as follows concerning violations thereof:"Any person, who shall personally
or by clerk or agent sell or offer for sale or for use, or who shall in manner dispose of or attempt to dispose
of any oil, gasoline, naphtha or other
like products of petroleum under whatever name called for illumina-tion, heating or power purposes, which shall not have been examined or tested under the provisions of this act,
or which, having been so tested, shall have been marked as rejected, or who shall knowingly use or furnish for use for illuminating, heating or
power purposes any oil, gasoline, benzine, naphtha or other like products
of petroleum, which shall not have been properly examined or tested
and stamped, sealed or marked as herein provided, shall be liable to a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $500."

Hold Merchant Responsible

In case injuries result to the person
purchasing condemned oil, the merchant will be held responsible for all damages. This provision will doubtless have a salutary effect, as few
dealers will risk being named as defendant in a heavy damage suit.Persons found adulterating illumination or heating oil are subject to a fine of from $50 to $500 or a jail sentence of not more than six months.Deputy inspectors' stamps will be placed upon the ends of barrels in which the oil comes, and if the ends
are refilled without the stamp having been destroyed, the dealer is liable to punishment. Provision is made for punishment in case of misrepresentation of products and care will
be taken by the deputies that no oil
is sold which has not been tested by them and their seal annexed thereto.Dealers will be compelled to post in a conspicuous place the results of the various tests to which the oil which they handle has been subjected to.All dealers, either wholesale or retail, shall deliver gasoline or benzine
only in red cans or barrels, as the law has provided for several years.

Sale in Drugstores

A new provision affects the sale of gasoline in drugstores and reads as follows:"In case of gasoline, benzine and naphtha or other like product of petroleum being sold in bottles, cans or packages, or any product that contains gasoline, benzine or naphtha or other
like products of petroleum is a consistent part thereof, of not more than one quart for cleaning and similar purposes, it shall be deemed sufficient
if the contents of such bottles, cans
or packages are not designated by a label securely pasted or attached
thereto with the words 'gasoline',
'benzine' or 'naphtha', 'unlike' when exposed to heat or fire printed in bright red ink in letters not less than one-fourth inch in size. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed three
months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."This section, it is believed, will do
away, to a great extent, with dangerous accidents which occur yearly because products containing gasoline
such as stove polish and cleaning
fluids are placed near heat or flame
and explosions result.Recently there was such an accident in Janesville. A woman bought a certain brand of stove polish and cleaned a hot stove with it. She placed the can nearby and the whole
contents exploded burning her badly.

Mrs. Julia Lovejoy Has No Present

Plans for Erecting Modern Business Block in Forest City.

That she has no present plans for erecting an eight-story modern business block or otherwise extensively
improving property in the downtown
district of Rockford which was recently purchased from Thomas Hamlyn
for $50,000, is the statement attributed to Mrs. Julia Lovejoy of this city. Mrs. Lovejoy also declares a report to the effect that Mr. Ham-
lyn has offered to pay a $5,000 bonus
to get the property back. It is located at the intersection of North Main
and North Wyman streets and has a frontage of 80 feet on each thoroughfare.

A Great Band Coming.

A new band master to Rockford—
Marcel Vossler—will be the offering at Harmon park, July 18th to 25th inclusive. His name has a classical sound that attracts the ear at once
and we are not at all disappointed
when we meet the personage of that name. Unlike most of the leaders who are now courting the favor of the public, he has real artistic merit.
He is not of the French class or of the dignified and stiff class, but of a class just suited to the tastes of the muscle-daring people of today. He is a conductor that will make the home-
ring with the great flutes of some
grand overture or make the air thrille
with the light tripping of some gavo-
tto or mazurka. He can also set the people wild with his interpretations of the popular music of today.

Chicago & North-Western.

JANESVILLE TO GET
NEW ST. PAUL TRAINNew Train Leaving Here at 11:15 P.
M. Will Cut Running Time to
St. Paul Nearly Two Hours.Both roads, the North-Western and
the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul,
are about to inaugurate a passenger train time war between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis in order to secure the bulk of that very profitable trade, and in the progress of this battle of schedules, Janesville will get the benefit of better train service.Last night the North-Western put on a new train de luxe between Chicago and the Twin Cities, which arrived in Janesville at 11:12 p. m. and left at 11:15. This train was made up entirely of sleeping cars and was operated between the two points in eleven hours and twenty minutes.The new flyer, to be known as the "Fast Mail," will reduce the running
time between Chicago and the Minn-
neapolis capital twenty minutes, leaving Chicago at 8:04 p. m. and arriving in St. Paul at 7:30 a. m.In the past, Janesville travelers who wished to go to St. Paul during the evening were compelled to take
the 9:20 p. m. train which arrives in St. Paul at 7:25 a. m. Now they can reserve berths on the "Fast Mail" and leave at 11:15 p. m., arriving at their destination at 7:30 a. m., in this manner saving nearly two hours on the road.On Sunday the St. Paul installed a new train between Chicago and St.
Paul to be known as the "Twin Cities Special," which made the run in less
time than any train now in service on the St. Paul system.The heavy and high class travel between Chicago and the Twin Cities
accounts for the present keen competition between the two roads.The oppressive heat of the past few days again got in its deadly work.
Fireman Wooding on 504 was unable to stand the pace Friday night and Fireman Dawson relieved him. Fireman R. C. Smith went to Belvidere
on an extra Saturday morning as the regular fireman was "all in" from the heat.Fireman Fleming went south to the Chicago shops with a dead engine Friday night. On his return from being 504, Fireman Dawson was sent to the shops with another dead engine Saturday morning.Night Foreman George Fikins left
for Madison Saturday morning on a "pull" for a house. During his absence and until a new night foreman is appointed, Engineer S. O. Dudley will have charge.Engineer Crowley and Fireman Hickshaw were on the half and half switch engine Friday.Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.
Engine 1341 is on the Davis Janesville passenger runs in place of 1385.Engineer Faller and Fireman Rooney double-headed the second dog
run Friday night with engine 82 to the Milwaukee shops for repairs.Engineer Schlicker and Fireman Harker double-headed number 30 to Milwaukee Saturday morning with engine 1385 for the Milwaukee shops.
It is expected that they will bring back engine 609, which has been repaired for service on the Mineral Point passenger run.Engineer Higgins and Fireman
Hornum took out the way freight, 91,
Saturday morning.Conductor Fraunfelder is relieving
J. J. Dean on 21 for a few days.Fireman Slain was on the switch-engine Saturday with Engineer Callahan.Engineer Meyer double-headed Engine 300 on 105 Saturday morning with engine 302.Switchman Will Nolan is relieving Win. Taylor today.Arthur Dooley, who was reported to be acting as round house foreman at Gratiot, brands the above statement
as an absurd fabrication, and the person who first started the yarn on its rounds is a "natural fable." He was simply safeguarding a work train at the above station.R. R. Moade was on the switch-engine Saturday with Engineer James.

NAMES FOR TRAINS

GAIN IN POPULARITY

Euphonious And Easily Remembered

Appellations Sought by Management.

Names for through trains, instead
of going out of fashion, are becoming more popular with railroad men and the public. Managers of the transportation companies say that, apparently, the public likes names for trains,
in fact it is the only way those outside the railroad business can become acquainted or keep track of trains, as numbers mean nothing to laymen.More thought than nowadays is given by railroad men to naming for sweeping hitting upon a name for a
train that will be easily spoken, remembered and become a permanent
advertisement, not only for the train,
but for the road generally.With due respect to competitors
and other roads it may be said that
the Twentieth Century Limited, of the New York Central line, is probably the best known train name in the country. This is due largely to euphony. Where possible, the names of trains are selected with a view to
the direction in which they are operated or the territory served. As illustrations of this kind, there is the Golden State Limited and Rocky Mountain Limited of the Rock Island,
the Overland of the Union Pacific,
the New Orleans Limited of the Illi-nois Central, Colorado Special, North-Western and Southern Limited of the Missouri & St. Paul, all indicating directions served by the flyers. The Continental Limited is used by the Wabash and in connection with the stretch of country served it indicates
the route.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE MAN FROM BRODNEY'S.

It was quite forty-eight hours before the Deppingshams surrendered to the Brownes. They were obliged to humbly admit in the seclusion of their own councils that it was to the obnoxious but energetic Brit that they owed their present and ever growing comfort.

Late in the afternoon of the day following the advent of the Brownes, Lord and Lady Deppingsham were inebriously fanning themselves in the midst of their stinging Marie Antoinette elegance.

"By Jove, Aggy, it's too beastly hot here for words," growled he for the hundredth time. "I think we'd better move into your grandfather's rooms."

"Now, Deppy, don't let the Brownes talk you into everything they suggest," she complained, determined to be stubborn to the end. "They know out there too much."

"That's all very good, my dear, but you know quite as well as I that we made a frightful mistake in choosing these rooms. It is cooler on that side of the house, I'm not too proud to be comfortable, don't you know?"

The next day they moved into the west wing, and that evening they had the Brownes to dine with them in the banquet hall. Deppingsham awoke in the middle of the night with violent cramps in his stomach.

"Don't say a word to Lady Deppingsham," he granted, sitting up in bed and gazing wildly at his valet, "but I've been poisoned. The servants—onch!—don't you know! Might have known. Silly ass! See what I mean? Get something for me—quick!"

For two hours Antoine applied hot water bags and soothing strips, and his master, far from dying as he continually prophesied, dropped off into a peaceful sleep.

The next morning Deppingsham, fully convinced that the native servants had tried to poison him, unconditionally discharged the entire force.

Of course there was a great upheaval. Lady Agnes came tearing down to the servants' hall, followed directly by the Brownes and Mr. Brit.

"Stop!" she cried. "Deppy, what are you doing? Discharging them after we've had such a time getting them? Are you crazy?"

"They're a pack of snakes—I mean snakes. They're poisonous. They tried to poison every one of us last night!"

Brit smoothed the troubled waters with astonishing ease. The servants returned to their duties, but not without grumbling and no end of savage glances, all of which were leveled at the luckless Deppingsham.

"Why poison?" demanded Brit. "They've got knives and guns, haven't they?"

"My dear man, that would put them to an end of trouble cleaning up after us," said Deppingsham loftily.

Meanwhile, it may be well to depict

YOUR BACKACHE WILL YIELD

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rockland, Maine.—"I was troubled for a long time with pains in my back and side, and was miserable in every way. I doctored until I was discouraged, and I thought I should never get well. I read a testimonial about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and thought I would try it. After taking three bottles I was cured, and never felt so well in all my life. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all my friends."—Mrs. W. L. YORNO, 9 Columbia Avenue, Rockland, Me.

Backache is a symptom of female weakness or derangement. If you have backache, don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so safely and surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Cure the cause of these distressing aches and pains and you will become well and strong.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has restored health to thousands of women.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge.

the situation from the enemy's point of view—the enemy being the islanders as a unit. They were prepared to abide by the terms of the will so long as it remained clear to them that fair treatment came from the opposing interests. Inasmuch as the British, in mass meeting had discussed the document. They understood its requirements and its restrictions; they knew by this time that there was small chance of the original beneficiaries coming into the property under the provisions. Later came the news that marriage between the brow was out of the question. Then the islanders laughed as they talked. But they were not to be caught napping. Jacob von Hiltz, the superintendent, stolid German that he was, saw far into the future. It was he who set the native lawyer unceremoniously aside and urged competent representation in London. The great law firm headed by Sir John Brodney was chosen. A wide awake representative of the distinguished solicitors was now on his way to the island with the swarthy committee which had created so much interest in the metropolis during its brief stay.

Jacob von Hiltz came to the island when he was twenty years old. That was twenty years before the death of Taswell Skaggs. He had worked in the South African diamond fields and had no difficulty in securing employment with Skaggs and Wyckholme.

von Hiltz was shrewd enough to see that the grandchildren were not coming to the island for the mere pleasure of sojourning there; their motive was plain. It was he who advised—even commanded—the horde of servants to desert the chateau.

He lived, with his three wives, in the hills just above and south of the town itself. The Englishmen who worked in the bank and the three Boer foremen also had houses up there, where it was cooler, but von Hiltz was the only one who practiced polygamy. His wives were Persian women and handsome after the Persian fashion.

One hot, dry afternoon about a week after the reopening of the chateau, the steers of a swarthy population was disturbed by the shouts of the men who kept impatient watch of the sea. Five minutes later the whole town of Arrat knew that the smoke of a stranger lay low on the horizon. No one doubted that it came from the neck of the boat that was bringing Rasula and the English solicitor. Joy turned to excitement when the word came down from von Hiltz that it was the long looked for steamer, the Sir Joshua.

von Hiltz stood at the landing place to welcome Rasula and his comrades and to be the first to clasp the hand of the man from Brodney's.

At last his figure could be made out on the forward deck. The straw hat was at least a head higher than the turban of Rasula, who was indicating to him the interesting spots in the hills.

"He's big," commented von Hiltz comfortably, more to himself than to his neighbor. "And young," he added a few minutes later. Bowles, standing at his side, offered the single comment:

"Good looking."

As the full stranger stepped from the boat to the pier von Hiltz turned a look of triumph upon Brit, who had elbowed through the crowd a moment before and was standing close by.

The newcomer was an American!

"I've sighted the enemy," exclaimed Bobly Browne, coming up from Neptune's pool—the largest of the fountains. His wife and Lady Deppingsham were sitting in the cool retreat under the hanging garden. "Would you care to have a peek at him?"

"I should think so," said his wife, jumping to her feet. "He's been on the island three days, and we haven't had a glimpse of him. Come along, Lady Deppingsham."

Lady Deppingsham arose reluctantly, stilling a yawn.

They had come to call the new American lawyer "the enemy." No one knew his name or cared to know it, for that matter. Bowles in answer to the telephone inquiries of Saunders said that the new solicitor had taken temporary quarters above the bank and was in hourly consultation with von Hiltz, Rasula and others. Much of his time was spent at the mines. Later on, it was commonly reported, he was to take up his residence in Wyckholme's deserted longhouse far up on the mountain side in plain view from the chateau.

Life at the chateau had not been allowed to drag. The white servants had become good friends despite the natural disinclination that the trained English expert feels for the unpunctuated American domestic.

Mrs. Polham, the stenographer from West Twenty-third street, had set her cap for the unsuspecting Mr. Saunders. She had learned in the wisdom of her sex that he was fancy free. Mr. Saunders, fully warned against the American typewriter girl as a class, having read the most shocking jokes at her expense in the comic papers, was rather shy at the outset, but Brit gallantly came to Miss Polham's defense and ultimately rescued by emphatically assuring Saunders that she was a perfect lady, guaranteed to cause uneasiness to no man's wife.

"But I have no wife," quickly protested Saunders, turning a dull red.

"The devil!" exclaimed Brit, apparently much upset by the revelation. But of this more anon.

Browne conducted the two young women across the drawbridge and to the sunlit edge of the terrace, where two servants awaited them with parasols.

"There he is! See him?" almost whispered Browne, as if the solitary, motionless figure at the foot of the avenue was likely to hear his voice and be frightened away.

The enemy was sitting serenely on one of the broad iron benches just inside the gates to the park. His arms stretched out along the back, his legs extended and crossed. It was quite apparent that he was lazily surveying the chateau, puffing with consistent ease at the cigarette which drooped from his lips.

"Mr. Brit was right," said Mrs. Browne irreverently. She was peering at the stranger through the blue curtains. "He is a very good looking."

"And you from Boston, too," scoffed Lady Deppingsham. Mrs. Browne flushed and smiled deprecatingly.

"Wonder what he's doing here in the grounds?" puzzled Browne.

"It's plain to me that he is resting his nudulous bones," said her ladyship, glancing brightly at her colleagues.

Three men were approaching by the path which led down from the far away stables. Browne recognized the dark skinned men as servants in the chateau—the major domo, the chief and the master of the stables.

"Lord Deppingsham must have sent them down to pitch him over the wall," he said, with an excited grin.

"Impossible! My husband is hunting for sapphires in the ravine back of"—She did not complete the sentence.

The enemy was greeting the status-quo natives with a friendliness that upset all calculations. It was evident that the meeting was prearranged. There was no attempt at secrecy. The conference, whatever its portent, had the merit of being quite aboveboard.

In the end the tall solicitor, lifting his helmet with a gesture so significant that it left no room for speculation, turned and sauntered through the broad gateway and out into the forest road. The three servants returned as they had come, by way of the bridge path along the wall.

"The nerve of him!" exclaimed Browne. "That graceful attention was meant for us. I'll have Brit interview these fellows at once. Our kitchen, our stables and our domestic discipline are threatened."

"They hastened to the chateau and regaled the resourceful Brit with the disquieting news."

"That evening he dragged the reluctant Saunders into the privacy of the hanging garden and deliberately interrupted the game of bridge which was going on.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said Mr. Brit, calmly dropping into a chair near by. "This place is full of spies."

"Spies?" cried four voices in unison. Mr. Saunders nodded a plaintive apology.

"Yes, sir, every native servant here is a spy. That's what the enemy was here for today. I've analyzed the situation and I'm right. Ain't I, Mr. Saunders? Of course I am. He came here to tell 'em what to do and how to report our affairs to him. See? Moreover, he's getting the evidence of everybody to prove that Skaggs and Wyckholme were men of sound mind up to the hour of their death. He has the depositions of agents and dealers in Bombay, Aden, Suez and three or four European cities, all along that line. He goes over the day's business at the bank as often as we do as agents for the executors. He knows just how many rubles and sapphires were washed out yesterday and how much they weigh. It's our business, as your agents, to scrape up everything as far back as we can go to prove that the old chaps were mentally off their base when they drew up that agreement and will. Of course if we can prove that insanity had always run through the two families!"

"Good Lord!" gasped Browne nervously.

PASTORS SHOULD "SPARK", DECLARES BISHOP QUAYLE

Should Be Ashamed If He Doesn't Know How—Must Hold the Woman's Hand.

Spokane, Wash., July 12.—Discussing the tremendous advantages to a preacher of being a scientific "sparkler," Bishop William A. Quayle, formerly of Chicago, said in the course of his address at the First Methodist church of Spokane that any pastor who does not know how to "spark" ought to be ashamed of himself.

"And," he added, "there is no use of 'sparkling' a woman unless you are holding her hand. I can not explain why this is so, but I do know that it has to be done, for I have been there myself."

Judging from the prolonged applause and the repeated nods of approval by the listeners in the amen corner following this remark, it is taken that the Chicagoan has started something right here in sunny Spokane. Here are a few sentences:

"A foe of the home is always destructive of good order, civilization and decency.

"Slums are wherever devilry is. I have seen slums in boulevards and in the home of millionaires.

"The solitary thing that keeps the world decent is the home. Abolish it and the world will go to the devil."

"Marrying is the greatest thing in the world, but from its very commonness we do not appreciate the fact.

"Any one who shuns a woman's love insults the race. The world's life never gets and stays above the level of womanhood.

"In America man is a sort of pocket-book for woman. She wants him around at night because he is then about as good as a pocket.

"The making of home a sweet place and then the raising of babies is often considered small business, but domesticity is still God's greatest necessity and always will be."

DIES IN DENTIST'S CHAIR.

London Coroner Returns Verdict in Iowa Professor's Case.

London, July 12.—The inquest into the death of Prof. Lawrence Marshall Byers of Des Moines, Iowa, who died in London, July 7, during an operation for an ulcerated tooth, was held and the coroner's verdict was death by misadventure. It appeared from the evidence given by G. L. Holmes of Charleston, S. C., that Prof. Byers had complained about his tooth before landing at Liverpool on June 29. The professor saw a doctor in London and decided on his advice to have a wisdom tooth, which was the cause of an abscess, removed. The doctor testified that Prof. Byers took ether remarkably well, but that the dentist was unable to take out the tooth. The professor quickly recovered from the effects of the ether on this occasion, and on July 7 decided to undergo another operation. Ether was again administered, but the patient died within a few minutes from asphyxia, due to a swollen throat and septic poisoning as well as the anæsthetic.

At the request of Prof. Byers' father, Albert W. Swalm, the American consul at Southampton has taken charge of the body which will be embalmed and embarked on the White Star line steamer Majestic sailing from Southampton, July 14.

BIRDS HELP A CHURCH CHAIR.

Canaries Aid in Cincinnati Sanctuary's Music Program.

Cincinnati, July 12.—The presence of 35 canary birds as a part of the choir and participating in the Sabbath morning music program, constituted a unique and novel innovation on the regular religious services at Lincoln Park Institutional Baptist church.

The idea of calling the birds into commission as a part of the choir was original with the pastor, Rev. George L. Robbins, and the effect of the use of the canaries along with the choir voices and the great church organ, it was declared by members of the con-

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

HOW CAN you let Marlon go so far away? I asked when Marlon's mother told me with pride that her daughter had accepted a position in a school two thousand miles away.

"I want her to," said this very wise woman, "I want her to go far enough away so that she will have to sew on her own buttons and make her own decisions."

From the schools and colleges all over the country thousands of girls were graduated during the last month.

And in thousands of homes all over the country the question promptly arose, "What is this girl to do next?"

In far too many of these homes were mothers who completed the question by the wall, "I can't let my girl go far away from home. She wouldn't know how to look out for herself. I want her to always be near enough to come to us in any trouble."

To want to utter such a plaint is natural and more or less excusable. To utter it is absolutely weak.

If you need your daughter, that is one thing. I am not pleading for the girl who will leave a mother who is alone or sick or in any way needs her. I have no use for such a girl.

But if you simply want to keep your daughter needing you, that is quite another thing. By so doing you are withholding from her the divine right of every grown human being, the right to become—as far as anyone can become—self-sufficient.

No girl—whatever her talents and other equipment—has a fair chance in the world without self-sufficiency and self-reliance.

If you could buy self-reliance for your girl you would do well to save and scrimp and deny yourself and her many luxuries in order to present her with a goodly stock.

But you cannot. Not even if you are twenty times a millionaire—perhaps less easily than.

There is but one way for a girl to win self-reliance, and that is to rely on herself.

Of course it isn't necessary to put a thousand miles between yourself and your daughter to teach her self-reliance. But standing in her way when she has the courage to strike out into a new field is a pretty good way to keep her from learning it.

The mother who will not let her daughter go away to college, who is unwilling the college graduate should accept the excellent opportunity in a distant field, or who insists that the bride shall live with her or in the house around the corner, where if the jolly doesn't tell of John and his new wife quarrel, she may seek refuge or advice at home, is a selfish mother.

The bird mother or the wise human mother tumbles the over-shoulder fledglings out of the nest.

The foolish human mother tries to keep even the venturesome birdie cramped up in the nest.

The one is temporarily cruel and thereby kind.

The other is temporarily kind and thereby cruel.

Which are you?

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, July 12, 1869.—During Thursday, last evening, while Mr. J. L. Kimball and family were at church, some thief entered his dwelling and stole about thirty-five dollars in money, a lady's gold watch and a chain, a number of lockets, pins, etc., amounting in all to over one hundred dollars.

The chimney to the lamp they used was all broken into fragments and scattered around the room. It is probable that this accident was a fortunate one for Mr. Kimball as the thief, or thieves, left more valuables and money than they took. Mr. Kimball offers a liberal reward for their arrest.

Hoggish.—The collar of Mr. Par-

meys, on Milton avenue, was visited by burglars one night last week and the contents of a port barrel carried off. The thieves evidently intended to go the whole hog, as they left not as much as a grease spot. The only entrance to the cellar was through a small window, scarcely large enough to admit a full-grown man, and the precise workings of the burglars must have been very strong to induce them to run such a risk for so small an amount of plunder.

Things Briefly Mentioned.—Rev. Jackson Fisher, pastor of All Souls church, preached his first discourse yesterday morning to a pleased and instructed audience. His reputation as a zealous Christian minister has preceded him, and he enters upon the duties under the most favorable circumstances.

A committee of the Board of Supervisors having the matter in charge, propose to invite Senator Carpenter to deliver an address at the laying of the corner stone of the new Court House. As the eloquent Senator got his start in this county, both in law and politics, it would be an appropriate service for him to perform.
